Review of the patent of Carroll (US 5157813) under a new interpretation who teaches the removable connection of the laces to the spool and the newly cited patent of Hallenbeck (US 5341583) who teaches a tightening element 7 comprising a rope made of metal or plastic (col. 2, lines 36-38) requires the withdrawal of the indication of allowable subject matter. In view of the withdrawal of the indication of allowable subject matter, the following election requirement is made. The inconvenience to applicant is regretted.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

Species I comprising the tightening mechanism and spool where the first and second ends of the cable are removably connected to the spool;

Species II comprising the tightening mechanism and spool where the first and second ends of the cable are fixed to the spool;

Species III comprising the tightening mechanism and spool where cable is connected to the spool at a point spaced apart from the ends of the cable; and Species IV comprising the tightening mechanism and spool where the cable extends through a bore of the spool.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, at least claim 1 is generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
